Tour with us in the mysterious jungles deep in the Amazonian rainforest, exploring the colonial heritage of historic

Quito, experiencing indigenous communities in the Andean highlands, and making contact with the exotic evolutionary wonders of the Galapagos Islands, this tour allows you to explore four of the best and most diverse destinations in South America.

You will find that Quito is a treasure trove of architectural and artistic delights, boasting one of South America's best-preserved colonial centers.

Your guide will take you to neo-Gothic and Baroque churches, leafy plazas, political buildings, lavish palaces and, depending on your tastes, you might also visit some of the city's museums or boutiques, or simply stroll along the colonial cobblestone streets as you learn about the history of this vibrant city.

Leaving the hustle and bustle of the big city, we will head for the Galapagos archipelago, where snorkeling in the area, with sea lions around, soaking up the sun alongside iguanas, and marveling at the natural beauty is just a typical day! We will not get too close to the animals. Situated off the coast of Ecuador, this isolated haven of biodiversity is home to a dazzling array of birds, reptiles and fish. We will board the eco boat for a five days tour, that is noiseless so that we don't disturb all sealife and causes stress to them.

This boat has solar roof and has tools to discover saliva on great distance.

All meals are included on boat.

All tours start in Quito Ecuador, from where we fly to the Galapagos to take there the boat.
